

Debbie Robbins received a very welcome surprise Christmas Calico Kitten from husband Neil Strong.

Calli and friend Smokey (photo below) relax after the holidays. Smokey was adopted previously.

Audrey Bernadette (left photo) was found at a Snow Creek dumpster on a bitter cold Saturday night in January. Luckily, she was found and she was brought to Donna Essig's home that night. The little pup was very thin with a bloated stomach and she was ravenous. Audrey B was tiny but her personality was very big. Despite her poor physical condition, she wanted to kiss everyone in sight.

Her breed was a matter of contention as she was tiny and had very small feet but had some pit bull characteristics—mainly the brindle eye/ear patch. We described her as a Jack Russell/Terrier mix and her new family saw her on our website. They had a Jack Russell already and wanted a second. When we told them that we really weren't sure of Audrey's breed, her new mama said that it didn't really matter if she turned out to be a Jack Russell mix or a pit bull mix as they had fallen in love with her at first sight.

No matter what her breed, Audrey B is a very special little girl and she won our hearts. She has been renamed Abby and now is describes as "Spoiled Rotten".

Possum (left) was found at a Ferrum dumpster in January. He was stuffed into a small crate with two other cats. All three cats were brought to the Adoption Center. Possum is a very sweet and gentle cat and is available for adoption..
