His new family wrote "Wanted to let you know how Dig by (Paddington) is doing. He has settled right in to our family. When we got him to Eric's aunt's house and he ran and ran chasing Emma. By the time we left Hardy we had him in his crate and he slept from Hardy to Blacksburg.

He met Clifford and they got on well, with Clifford even lifting his leg to let Digby smell him. BIG MISTAKE as Digby used his puppy teeth on Clifford's underside. Clifford is a good boy so all he has done is avoid Digby. Digby occasionally chases Clifford, but Digby is a fast learner. He does not torment Clifford too much and they will become friends eventually. Such a smart puppy. He got to meet Clifford's 2 friends whose owners are an elderly couple who walk by our house. Their dogs got to smell Digby and he did not seem the least bit afraid. Anyway, wanted to update you and let you know how happy we are with our adoption."

Two of Paddington's brothers are still available for adoption. Please stop by to meet them.

Hello,
I just wanted to update you on the kitten we adopted in late December. You called her Demi. We have renamed her Gamma and she is the cutest little thing with the best personality. She love's to play and love's to snuggle. I have attached some photo's of her with her big sister's Delphi and Zephyr. She also has a big brother Mush. She is a wonderful addition to our family. Thank you for all the work you do taking care of the animal's.
Thank you
Rhonda and Charlie Hurd

Gifford (photo at left) is a young Corgi mix that we got from the Animal Control Shelter in late September. He stayed at the Adoption Center a little over a month before he was transferred to another rescue group that took him to his new home.

His new family reports " Gifford is happy as can be. He's made many new friends in the neighborhood. We have grown attached to him. Everyone loves him. We're trying to work on a couple issues with him chewing everything and marking when he is somewhere new. We buy him bones which he loves so much that he hides them. Then he looks for other things to chew."
